Plot to Assassinate the President. In the Municipal Court at Portland, Oregon, yesterday afternoon Walter Sealasskiwicz, a Pole, who claims to have been invited to join what the govern-ment secret agents believe to be one of the most radical anarchistic societies in America, declared on the witness-stand that a plot was laid in Portland last month for the assassination of President Roosevelt. He further testified that funds were raised in that city for the purfunds were raised in that city for the purpose of sending John Przywara, a Russian nihilist, also a member of the society, to Washington city, to execute the murderous plot. The plans for the killing of the President miscarried, he said, because of internal dissensions which arose in the society. When trouble arose in the ranks of the red followers, he said, feer of aronaura of the plot he said, fear of exposure of the plot seized upon them and the plan was abandoned temporarily. His knowledge of the plot, he averred, led to the fight and his charges of assault and battery on which several of the alleged member of the society were arrested.

Ended Life's Troubles.

A long season of misfortune was prought to a tragic and pathetic end yeserday when John T. Winn threw himself from a ferryboat at New York and found death in the river. Pinned to the lapel of his coat, which he left behind on the ferryboat's deck, was a note in which Winn declared that his mind was gradually giving way under the strain of ill-luck. The note directed that the body when found be taken charge of by an undertaker whom he named, and added. "Bury it as soon as possible. Make sure it is dead and plant it at once," Winn was 40 years old and made his home with his brother. The brother said John was prosperous and happy a few years ago. His troubles began when his wife and child died within a months of each other. Then he fell ill himself, his business failed and he was forced to seek work as a truck driver. His health was such that he was unable to work steadily, however, and worry brought on the con-dition of mind which led him to end his
